Dear UAW Trust Member:

We are writing on behalf of the Committee which oversees the administration of the UAW Retiree Medical Benefits Trust (the “Trust”). The Trust provides health care benefits for UAW retirees of General Motors, Ford and Chrysler. In the following pages, we describe the updates to the Trust’s financial position during the 2017 calendar year.

We are proud of the progress we have made since the Trust launched in 2010. We have achieved excellent investment returns on behalf of retirees in a well-managed and diversified investment portfolio. We have successfully managed benefit costs, allowing us to stretch every dollar to provide our retirees with coverage in the most cost-effective way possible. We have been able to add important new benefits for our members, including expanding office visit coverage and introducing specialist coverage for our non-Medicare retirees effective January 2019. And, we were also very pleased to announce earlier this year that member cost share will remain unchanged for all plans for 2019.

Immunizations, screenings, and routine physicals are also essential to good health. Taking these simple steps can help you live a healthier life. If you haven’t already done so, please take a minute to make sure you are current with all your recommended screenings and other preventive procedures.

You can learn more about the Trust by visiting our website at www.uawtrust.org, by attending retiree meetings in your area, or by calling the UAW Trust Eligibility Center – Retiree Health Care Connect (RHCC) at 866-637-7555 – if you have any questions about your health care benefits.

We wish you good health.

Mission, Vision and Values

The mission of the Trust is to provide every member with health benefits and the opportunity to achieve their best quality of life.

The Trust exists to serve our members. Our mission is 100% retiree-focused and seeks to meet the unique needs of our membership.

The Trust is an advocate for programs that support retiree health and health care.

We are committed to the long-term viability of the Trust.
About the Trust

Since January 1, 2010, the UAW Retiree Medical Benefits Trust has provided the medical coverage for UAW retirees of General Motors (GM), Ford and Chrysler. The Trust is separate from the auto companies and the UAW. The Trust is governed by an 11-person Committee, with six independent members and five members appointed by the UAW. During 2017, the Trust provided benefits for more than 700,000 people. Of these, more than 440,000 are from GM.

During 2017, the Trust paid out more than $4.2 billion to provide benefits, including medical and prescription drugs, to its members. It filled more than 17 million prescription drug claims.

Last year, because of the high satisfaction with Medicare Advantage (MA) plans, the Trust successfully expanded the availability of MA plans nationwide and made the MA plan the base plan for Medicare members. The MA plan provides Medicare-eligible members with greater value with lower out-of-pocket costs while preserving coverage levels and access to doctors and hospitals. We have tracked retiree experience with these new MA plans, and 96 percent of members enrolled in these plans report being more satisfied with their medical coverage than those enrolled in the Traditional Care Network (TCN) product with Medicare. For those retirees who wished to stay with the TCN plan through Blue Cross Blue Shield, we retained that option in every location as well.

The Trust call center, Retiree Health Care Connect, handled nearly 400,000 calls, helping retirees get answers to their questions about health care claims.

Annual Cost of Benefits

How much money did the Trust spend during 2017?

In total, the Trust spent over $4.2 billion in 2017. Of that, nearly $2.54 billion was for GM retirees. This covers $2.3 billion of direct payments to hospitals and doctors, as well as prescription drug and other direct patient care costs.

In addition to direct health care costs, the Trust must spend money to administer the medical plan itself, including the cost of reviewing and paying millions of individual medical and prescription drug claims, and the cost to maintain an eligibility system to keep track of our members. We regularly add new programs to help retirees. We continue to strengthen our case management and pharmacy programs to help our members who have complex chronic conditions. We also pay outside investment managers to make sure we invest the Trust’s assets wisely. The total cost of all these administrative, operational and program costs was $243 million for the GM retirees in 2017.
Funds Available in the Trust

What assets are in the Trust?

The value of the Trust’s net assets at the end of 2017 was approximately $61.3 billion. The GM portion of those assets was $31.4 billion.

During 2017, the Trust continued to experience good financial results. Investment markets in 2017 were strong, as detailed later in this document. In addition, the Trust’s on-going efforts to control costs by delivering benefits more efficiently – along with our retirees continuing to engage in prudent purchasing of health benefits – kept our liabilities under control.

The financial news for the Trust continues to be positive. But we must always remember that the future is uncertain. Events completely out of our control can occur and have a negative impact on the Trust’s financial situation. Declines in the investment markets, spikes in health care inflation, or negative changes in federal Medicare programs can all have an adverse impact on the Trust. The Trust must prepare for an uncertain future as best we can, by continuing to operate efficiently, investing wisely, and encouraging our retirees to take advantage of our programs to improve their health.

Trust Investments

Except for the GM Common Stock (described below), the assets in the GM portion of the Trust are invested in a diversified portfolio of stocks, bonds and other traditional investments. The Trust and its Investment Sub-Committee, internal investment staff, and outside investment professionals regularly review investment policies, results, and practices to make sure that our investments are aligned with the Trust’s long-term goals.

When the Trust launched in 2010, the GM portion of the Trust’s assets included large allocations of GM stock and other assets related to GM. As described in earlier annual updates, in the years between 2010 and 2016, the Trust successfully sold most of those company-related assets and deposited the cash proceeds into the regular Trust investment account for GM retirees. At the end of 2017, the only GM-related asset remaining in the Trust was 140.15 million shares of GM Common Stock, with a value of $5.745 billion. In early 2018, the Trust sold an additional 40 million shares of GM stock and therefore currently holds 100.15 million shares.

In accordance with Department of Labor rulings and requirements, an Independent Fiduciary holds the GM Common Stock on the Trust’s behalf. That fiduciary has authority over the use and disposition of that stock. As that stock is sold by the Independent Fiduciary, the cash proceeds will be transferred into the Trust’s traditional investment portfolio.
How did the Trust investments perform during 2017?

Investment markets were strong in 2017. The investments in the GM account returned roughly 12.8% for the calendar year 2017, not including the value of GM Common Stock held during 2017.

Since 2010, the investments in the GM account have earned an annual rate of return of 7.3%, not including the return on GM-related holdings.

Current Retiree Needs and Long-Term Solvency

How does the Trust balance the needs of current retirees and the need to maintain long-term financial stability for future retirees?

The Trust is always working to balance two goals:

- Medical benefits are vital to the economic security of every family, particularly retirees who must live on a fixed income. The UAW fought for retiree medical benefits at the bargaining table for decades. The Trust is now the entity that provides these vital benefits. The Trust works hard to provide the best possible benefits to current retirees who need those benefits today.

- The money in the Trust must also be used carefully. We need to protect the long-term financial health of the Trust. In addition to the 700,000 retirees already receiving benefits from the Trust, there are 79,000 active workers who will be eligible for Trust benefits upon their retirement. Both these groups will have medical needs for many years. A key part of our job is to make sure there is still money in the Trust to provide these benefits for many decades to come.

We have improved benefits and expanded coverage in many ways. In fact, over the years, we’ve added coverage for dental, vision and hearing benefits for GM retirees. We have added coverage for primary care office visits, urgent care centers, immunizations, and a variety of educational and other programs to help our members with chronic conditions such as diabetes. We expanded Medicare Advantage programs in all 50 states to give our Medicare-eligible retirees greater choice of coverage options while preserving coverage levels and access to doctors and hospitals.

We also work hard to hold down retiree costs to make benefits affordable as possible without compromising coverage or benefit levels. We are pleased that we were able to avoid any retiree cost increases for 2018 and we announced no cost increases for 2019.
Finally, we understand that we must save money whenever possible, in order to help protect the long-term future of the Trust. Every dollar we save is a dollar we can use to pay for medical benefits. We are proud of our cost-saving efforts.

We also recognize that when it comes to your health care, it’s not just about saving money. It’s also about spending wisely. Your engagement can help protect the Trust’s financial health and ensure that you and your fellow UAW retirees receive good medical benefits for many years into the future. That’s why we work so hard to encourage you to take advantage of the Trust’s office visit, immunization, screening, and other preventive benefits. Thousands of our retirees have taken advantage of our new vaccine and immunization benefits. Many of those retirees would have become seriously ill if they had not taken that simple step. By making good choices about your medical care, you can help yourself, your family, and your fellow retirees.

Note: Most of the figures in this communication relate to the calendar year 2017, the last year for which audited figures are available. The performance for 2018 will be communicated in a letter next fall. Even though 2018 has not ended, and audited figures are not available for any part of 2018, there have not been any events as of October 2018 that would have a significant negative impact on the financial health of the Trust.
